

Festival of Reason & Freethought 2018 (For Ex-Believers & Non-Believers)

The event:

Join us in a celebration of Reason and Freethought. The aim is for people of the ex-believing, non-believing and freethinking world to get together and celebrate Atheism, Humanism, free-thought, reason, scepticism and Enlightenment values. A time to contemplate being an ex-believer or a non-believer in a world that is still predominantly superstitious.

Food & Drinks:

There is a café at the park but please feel free to bring your own refreshments

Speakers:

Clive Aruede - an African Ex-Christian and Founder of London Black Atheists

Andrew Copson - Chief Executive, Humanists UK

A C Grayling – Professor of Philosophy

Imtiaz Shams - of Faith to Faithless

Jimmy Bangash – LGBT Ex-Muslim of The CEMB: Council of Ex-Muslims of Britain

Sadia Hameed – Spokesperson for The CEMB: Council of Ex-Muslims of Britain

Stells Dessoy - an Ex-Catholic and a Humanist

Terri O'Sullivan - an Ex-Jehovah's Witness

Ste Richardsson - an LGBT Ex-Jehovah's Witness

Imad Iddine Habib - a Black African Ex-Muslim

Mwahamadu - a Black Caribbean Ex-Muslim, leading the masked members of London Black Atheists, (masked due to fear of being 'outed' as atheists).

MCs:

Tavian Oladapo - an African Ex-Christian Ste Richardsson – an LGBT Ex-Jehovah's Witness

Tickets: £10 each from Eventbrite - <https://tinyurl.com/y7wgvha2>

(NOTE: Red Lion Square Gardens is opposite Conway Hall: nearest station, Holborn)

Organised by London Black Atheists